Comment
Dr. Applequist was very explicit in her directions for assignments, which helped me to meet her expectations and get a high grade. She was so thorough in her explanations, rubrics, etc., that I rarely needed to contact her outside of class. When I did need her, sometimes I felt like it took a bit of time to hear back from her -- nothing excessive, but sometimes a few days. I appreciate Dr. Applequist's enthusiasm and her obvious interest in helping her students develop as researchers. Several of the professors in this department have a halfhearted interest in teaching. They seem to be more interested in their own research or publications, which I know they have to be for their job security, but as a student paying for their classes, it's difficult to accept that my education isn't their top priority. I know Dr. Applequist is still early in her career, but I hope she never loses her dedication to teaching because it made all the difference for me in this class. She cared, so I did too. Thanks, Dr. Applequist!
Loved Dr. Applequist!
I really feel insightful with her. She can use many easy examples to explain hard theories.
Dr Applequist is a very professional, encouraging and motivating teacher, I'm glad that I had a chance to learn from her. Her classes were informative and interesting.
Thanks for all your help.
Very enthusiastic and skill full Professor . She have supported and encouraged me through out my semester. She brings the best in me.
Dr. Applequist is very professional and very kind. She encourages us to participate in the class discussion and provides us with excellent learning environment.
She always tried to give help to students. And reply the email very quickly. A very nice proffesor.
Dr. Applequist is an excellent educator. She facilitated the class in a manner that allowed for a thorough understanding of the concepts. Additionally, she clear about her expectations and communicated efficiently.
a young professor with dedicated attitude!! very good!
She's doing an excellent job considering this is her first semester at USF. She cares so much about the students. She has been so supportive and always delicate her time to meet with students regarding the class and assignment. She concerns about students well being.
